

Booklovers List: Caregiving Books for Kids & Teens

And They Still Bloom

By Amy Rovere

Scholastic Press (2010)

Teens who lose a loved one to cancer – how to cope with loss. Recommended by the American Cancer Society.

My Brother Charlie

By Ryan E. Peete and Holly R. Peete

Scholastic Press (2010)

A young girl's story about loving her autistic brother – written to educate other children about the disorder. Winner of the NAACP Award.

The Memory Box

By Mary Bahr

Albert Whitman & Company (1992)

A Grandpa builds a memory box for his grandson about the times they shared together.

Same But Different

By Ryan E. Peete, RJ Peete and Holly Robinson Peete

Scholastic Press (2016)

Being a teen is hard enough but the missed social cues, bullying and social isolation that can be challenging for those with autism also affects their siblings. In this second book by actress and TV star, Holly Robinson Peete, along with her twin teens, Ryan and RJ, who has autism, this is a wonderful journey into sibling love, family strength and the education that families living with a loved one with autism can teach all of us.

Booklovers List: Caregiving Books for Kids & Teens

What's Happening to Grandpa?

By Maria Shriver

Little Brown Books for Young Readers (2004)

A young girl creates a photo album for a grandfather with dementia.

WHY DID GRANDMA
PUT HER UNDERWEAR
IN THE REFRIGERATOR?

AN EXPLANATION OF ALZHEIMER'S
DISEASE FOR CHILDREN

MAX WALLACK
CAROLYN GIVEN

Why Did Grandma Put Her Underwear in the Refrigerator?

By Max Wallack and Carolyn Given

Create Space (2013)

A grandson's journey with a beloved grandma's Alzheimer's diagnosis.

This poignant book captures Max's learning to cope with his grandma's fears, paranoia, incontinence, wandering and memory loss while still a young boy. At age 17 and a college junior, Max writes this story with the help of his college professor to continue to educate all ages about Alzheimer's.